FAIR WARNING.

About the 1st of January we shall publish a list of delinquent subscribers to the Courier, and the names of each will be kept in our columns until the dues of each are paid. When the large list of our subscribers is taken into consideration it will be readily seen that it would be a laborious task to interview each of our delinquents in person, and we will adopt the method of publishing a list of those of our subscribers who are in arrears, both as a matter of convenience to them and to ourselves, and at which no honest man will take offense. If, in the mean time, any of our patrons wish to pay their subscription, they can tell exactly what they owe us, by referring to the label opposite their names, on the Courier they receive each week. Arrears must be settled at the rate of $1.50 per annum, and $1 for the current year.

THAT RED CROSS.

Our patrons who are in arrears on subscription and who have found that red cross on the margin of their paper for the past two weeks, doubtless, know, doubtless, that the red cross is not an emblem of honor, but a mark of shame. You are indebted to us for two successive issues, and we are indebted to you for the same. It is a matter of honor between us and you, and we are sure that you will not fail to pay your subscription for the year 1887, your paper will be published for you, and we will not fail to meet our own debts. We are strictly business and shall carry out our programme to the letter in publishing that list of delinquents. Remittances can be made either by postoffice order, registered letter or postal note. Our subscribers will confer a favor by responding at their earliest convenience.

DEDICATION.

Last Sunday the Baptist church recently built in this vicinity, two miles and a half southeast of Indian Grove, was dedicated to the service of God. After opening prayer by Rev. G. P. Beswick, the sermon was preached by Rev. M. E. Broadbent, of Glasgow, from Psalm 83:72. The dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. J. D. Smith, of Salisbury. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the services all went off pleasantly and Bro. Broadbent preached again at night. The house thus dedicated is one of the most beautiful and tastefully constructed of the kind to be found anywhere in the country. The ground upon which the church stands is a gift to the church by the late Mr. J. D. Smith, who has been the pastor for more than two years.

COOKING FOOD FOR PIGS. Experiments have demonstrated that cooking food adds to its value about 35 per cent. for fattening pigs. This apparent gain must be paid for by the cost of cooking. Very few farmers practice cooking, but understanding the increase of the value. They dislike the trouble and labor of cooking, and when food is slightly fermented.

SALISBURY DEPARTMENT.

BY A. W. JOHNSON.

Mr. Johnson is authorized to receive and receipt for Subscriptions, and any Advertisements handed to him will receive our prompt attention.

—Rev Sharp assisted Rev. Patton in the protracted meeting a week and then returned home.

—Loeb Bros., Earnest Guestr, W. S. Stockwell and the writer went to Linneus on Tuesday to attend the law suit of Loeb Bros. vs American Central Insurance company.

—For the fifth time in as many years Salisbury has been visited by a disastrous fire. A little after 12 o'clock Thursday night last, fire was discovered on the south of J. S. Rouser's grocery store and in a few moments the entire building was enveloped in angry flames. The owner secured his money, dogs and cats, so the story goes, and had barely time to get out of the building when it collapsed. The fire next seized upon the two story building of J. S. Vandevanter, occupied as drug store by the owner and as barber shop by B. J. Alvey, which melted away before the flames like dew before a summer sun. Willie Griffith, who clerked in the drug store, and occupied the upper room for sleeping, had barely time to escape from the burning building, by jumping on the awning from the second story window in his night clothing and descending to the ground by means of a shade tree. The principal portion of the drug stock as well as the barber's outfit was saved.

The building and basement were insured in the Niagara for $1,150. The fire then crossed the alley and attacked the frame building belonging to E. Moorhead, occupied by Dr. Banning as general store, which was speedily consumed and was a total loss as there was no insurance on the building. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Moorhead in his old age. The stock of goods in the building was mostly saved and being covered by insurance, no loss to the doctor will occur. The next food for the flames was the one story frame building of G. T. Henderson, occupied by Foster & Ferguson as a butcher shop. The meats and furniture were saved and when that building was consumed the fire was stayed. The brick fire wall of the Via building withstood the flames. The Henderson building was insured for $400 which will about cover the loss. The front glass in the Hilton block on the opposite side of the street was badly broken by the heat. Other buildings on that side suffered slight damage also. The loss by the fire will foot up $3,500 to $4,000, on which there was perhaps $2,500 insurance and may be more. The origin of the fire is not clearly understood, but the best explanation is that it was caused by a gas-fine explosion in the basement of Rouser's building. We have not been able to interview Mr. Rouser, but from others who have talked with him we learn that his own version is as follows: He had smelled gasoline during the day and also that night and taking a light he proceeded to investigate the premises and on opening the cellar door, the gasoline took fire and he came near being burned himself. We do not vouch for the truth of this, but it is all we have been able to gather thus far. The writer was absent when the fire took place and our information is obtained from others who were present. We hope the parties will rebuild or dispose of the lots to those who will. These disastrous fires will continue till all the frame rows are burned when they will cease, we hope. There seems to be but one opinion regarding the fire and that is, it was accidental.

Wm. Cousins, a day laborer of this place, will soon receive $400, from his grand-father's estate. We are afraid that after Wm. becomes in possession of his fortune he will not recognize his old friends.
